

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

January 13, 2009

Dear colleague,

We are pleased to make two important announcements about Treasury's financial literacy events this week.

- 1) Tomorrow's Relationship Finance Summit has been so well received that we have had to turn people away. Additionally, we were contacted by others who are unable to travel to Washington, DC. To give everyone access to this special event we have arranged to have it shown on the internet. To view the webcast, please go to the following website on January 14 from 10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.(EST) <http://www.treasury.gov/ofe>. I would like to thank the Department of Health and Human Services for partnering with us on the Summit and for making the webcast available. Please find the summit's agenda below.
- 2) For those of you planning to attend Thursday's Financial Literacy and Education Commission (FLEC) meeting, we have a special program scheduled before the meeting. On Thursday, January 15 at 9:00 a.m. award-winning personal finance journalist and bestselling author Jean Chatzky will speak in Treasury's Cash Room. Ms. Chatzky is a regular contributor to NBC's Today Show and hosts her own XM Radio program. If you have registered for either the Relationship Finance Summit or the FLEC meeting you are automatically registered for Ms. Chatzky's program. At 10:00 a.m. the FLEC meeting will begin as previously planned. The agenda for that meeting is below.

For all of the events, we encourage attendees to arrive at the Treasury Department at least 15-20 minutes early to provide time for processing by the uniformed Secret Service team that serves Treasury.

Thank you for your interest in these programs and in the work of the Office of Financial Education over the years. This week marks the end of this Administration's initiatives on financial literacy and my service at the Department of Treasury. I have genuinely enjoyed working with you and hope that our efforts here have advanced the cause of financial literacy for the American people.

Sincerely,

Dan Iannicola, Jr.
Deputy Assistant Secretary for Financial Education
1500 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20220
dan.iannicola@do.treas.gov